

Palate Press

The online wine magazine

2008 Selvapiana Chianti Rufina DOCG

WHO: Fattoria Selvapiana

WHAT: Sangiovese blend

WHERE: Chianti, Italy

WHEN: 2008

A cheerful bright cherry aroma wafts up from the glass at first. After the wine opens a bit, deeper cherry aromas and flavors carry an undertone of tobacco and earth. Tannins are moderately woody, in a pleasant way. This wine is good to sip on its own; it also works well with pasta with a fresh tomato sauce, liberally sprinkled with freshly grated Pecorino Romano cheese.

BSE

<http://palatepress.com>