

2002 Lopez de Heredia Viña
Bosconia Reserva

WHO: R. López de Heredia Viña Tondonia
WHAT: Tempranillo, Grenache, Mazuelo,
Graciano
WHERE: Rioja, Spain
WHEN: 2002

Lightness and freshness that are remarkably pleasant, with flavors reminiscent of blood orange and dried fruit, and a slightly spicy component as well. There is an intensity to it that could make it stand up to a grilled meat, and it remains a very satisfying wine. Something to drink while you wait for the more ageworthy vintages to get to the same point, an extra ten years down the line. RC
