

Palate Press
The online wine magazine

2005 Wild Earth Pinot Noir

Tart, fresh cherries and strawberries, smoked meat, and a hint of sea salt. There is also a sense of old velvet, a dusty musky earthy flavor coming mostly from dusty sweet tannins. A fairly tight streak of acid will make this match well with richer poultry dishes.

WHO Wild Earth

WHAT Pinot Noir

WHERE New Zealand, South Island,
Central Otago

WHEN 2005

<http://palatepress.com>