

2004 Brunello di Montalcino DOCG

WHO Argiano

WHAT Brunello di Montalcino (Sangiovese)

WHERE Italy, Tuscany, Montalcino

WHEN 2004

Clocking in at 14% ABV, this wine is a deep ruby red, with just a hint of purple. Floral notes and red fruit mingle on the nose, while more red fruit—especially juicy cherries—well-integrated tannins and an earthiness find their way onto the palate to work perfectly with rich foods like osso bucco. We had no decanter (this wine should be allowed to aerate) so I used my Centellino Areadivino to help the wine open up.

<http://palatepress.com>