

Palate Press

The online wine magazine

2008 Frescobaldi Rè mole

WHO: Frescobaldi

WHAT: Sangiovese blend

WHERE: Tuscany, Italy

WHEN: 2008

An everyday Tuscan Frescobaldi. Benefits from air, so open an hour before dinner, or swirl a lot in the glass at first. Pleasant, mild aroma with notes of cherry and caramelized fruit, opening to plummy in the flavor. Not super-fruity—a touch restrained, with tannins adding structure. As the label says, best with stronger foods; I liked it with slivers of Romano cheese. BSE

<http://palatepress.com>