

2010 Michel Torino Malbec

WHO: Michel Torino

WHAT: Malbec

WHERE: Salta, Argentina

WHEN: 2010

The nose shows plum, concord grape, charred green pepper, and acetone. When first opened the overwhelming flavor was of sweet concord grapes. After a couple of hours the fruit settled down a bit, letting black plum, black pepper, and smoke show through. Overall, this was disjointed and the finish short. Improvement over a few hours hinted it might get better over time, but with so many good Malbecs in the price range, there are better choices. Not recommended. DH

<http://palatepress.com>