

2009 Ridge Estate Chardonnay

WHO: Ridge Estate
WHAT: Chardonnay
WHERE: Santa Cruz Mountains, California
WHEN: 2009

Judicious use of a careful blend of wood adds depth to its fruit, as if pears, a single slice of pineapple, and a fig or two were all very quickly sautéed in butter, then sprinkled with fresh honeysuckle blossoms. Similar flavors are joined on the palate by a bit of vanilla, but nothing that would overpower the fruit. Be sure to drink cool to really enjoy the fruit. Drink with baked pompano or other delicate white fish. Highly Recommended. DH
