

2009 White Rose Pinot Noir,
Luciole Vineyard

WHO: White Rose Vineyards
WHAT: Pinot Noir
WHERE: Chehalem Mountains, Oregon
WHEN: 2009

Another lovely offering from the folks at White Rose in Oregon. They offer a wide range of wines from different vineyards. This one opens with a classic pinot nose of smoked cherries and plums. Tannins are soft and fruit is silken as it lingers on the palate after you first give it a little time to come around. Finishes a tad awkwardly, but the wine is still not quite wholly knitted together yet. A couple years' patience will be rewarded. Drink with grilled lamb loin chops. Highly recommended. GT
