

2006 Bodega Martin Berdugo
MB

WHO: Bodega Martin Berdugo
WHAT: Tempranillo (100%)
WHERE: Ribera de Duero, Spain
WHEN: 2006

A very expressive and complex Ribera del Duero wine, and the winery is not shy about it. The “MB” stands for “Muy Bueno” – “very good.” Spends 2 years in oak and another 2 in bottle before release. Chocolate, cigar box, and pepper on the nose carry through on the palate, opening onto rich notes of spice (allspice) and clean fruit (boysenberry). Lingers well on finish. If you’re a tempranillo fan (and I am) you’ll really enjoy this one. It’s the kind of wine I like with just about any grilled meat – will even stand up to the smoke of real Texas BBQ brisket. Highly recommended. GT

2006 Bodega Martin Berdugo
MB

WHO: Bodega Martin Berdugo
WHAT: Tempranillo (100%)
WHERE: Ribera de Duero, Spain
WHEN: 2006

A very expressive and complex Ribera del Duero wine, and the winery is not shy about it. The “MB” stands for “Muy Bueno” – “very good.” Spends 2 years in oak and another 2 in bottle before release. Chocolate, cigar box, and pepper on the nose carry through on the palate, opening onto rich notes of spice (allspice) and clean fruit (boysenberry). Lingers well on finish. If you’re a tempranillo fan (and I am) you’ll really enjoy this one. It’s the kind of wine I like with just about any grilled meat – will even stand up to the smoke of real Texas BBQ brisket. Highly recommended. GT

2006 Bodega Martin Berdugo
MB

WHO: Bodega Martin Berdugo
WHAT: Tempranillo (100%)
WHERE: Ribera de Duero, Spain
WHEN: 2006

A very expressive and complex Ribera del Duero wine, and the winery is not shy about it. The “MB” stands for “Muy Bueno” – “very good.” Spends 2 years in oak and another 2 in bottle before release. Chocolate, cigar box, and pepper on the nose carry through on the palate, opening onto rich notes of spice (allspice) and clean fruit (boysenberry). Lingers well on finish. If you’re a tempranillo fan (and I am) you’ll really enjoy this one. It’s the kind of wine I like with just about any grilled meat – will even stand up to the smoke of real Texas BBQ brisket. Highly recommended. GT

2006 Bodega Martin Berdugo
MB

WHO: Bodega Martin Berdugo
WHAT: Tempranillo (100%)
WHERE: Ribera de Duero, Spain
WHEN: 2006

A very expressive and complex Ribera del Duero wine, and the winery is not shy about it. The “MB” stands for “Muy Bueno” – “very good.” Spends 2 years in oak and another 2 in bottle before release. Chocolate, cigar box, and pepper on the nose carry through on the palate, opening onto rich notes of spice (allspice) and clean fruit (boysenberry). Lingers well on finish. If you’re a tempranillo fan (and I am) you’ll really enjoy this one. It’s the kind of wine I like with just about any grilled meat – will even stand up to the smoke of real Texas BBQ brisket. Highly recommended. GT