

2009 Weinberghof Fritsch
Zweigelt "Red Soil" Wagram

WHO: Weinberghof Fritsch
WHAT: Zweigelt
DESIGNATION: Red Soil
WHERE: Austria, Wagram
WHEN: 2009

Here was a red from the Wagram region of Lower Austria, the coolest zone in this lineup. The result was concomitantly lower in alcohol and had the telltale pale garnet color of a cool-climate wine. Hints of mint and herbs wafted over lovely aromas of plummy black fruits with a base note of earth. On the palate it was spicy with great piquancy, black pepper, and more plummy fruits. The finish was long and supple, and this wine retained its character after a day in the bottle. Enormously elegant and food loving. To my mind, a close second for best of tasting. Recommended. Meg Houston Maker

<http://palatepress.com>

2009 Monika Caha Selections
Zweigelt "Andau" Burgenland

WHO: Weinberghof Fritsch
WHAT: Zweigelt
DESIGNATION: Red Soil
WHERE: Austria, Wagram
WHEN: 2009

Here was a red from the Wagram region of Lower Austria, the coolest zone in this lineup. The result was concomitantly lower in alcohol and had the telltale pale garnet color of a cool-climate wine. Hints of mint and herbs wafted over lovely aromas of plummy black fruits with a base note of earth. On the palate it was spicy with great piquancy, black pepper, and more plummy fruits. The finish was long and supple, and this wine retained its character after a day in the bottle. Enormously elegant and food loving. To my mind, a close second for best of tasting. Recommended. Meg Houston Maker

<http://palatepress.com>

2009 Monika Caha Selections
Zweigelt "Andau" Burgenland

WHO: Weinberghof Fritsch
WHAT: Zweigelt
DESIGNATION: Red Soil
WHERE: Austria, Wagram
WHEN: 2009

Here was a red from the Wagram region of Lower Austria, the coolest zone in this lineup. The result was concomitantly lower in alcohol and had the telltale pale garnet color of a cool-climate wine. Hints of mint and herbs wafted over lovely aromas of plummy black fruits with a base note of earth. On the palate it was spicy with great piquancy, black pepper, and more plummy fruits. The finish was long and supple, and this wine retained its character after a day in the bottle. Enormously elegant and food loving. To my mind, a close second for best of tasting. Recommended. Meg Houston Maker

<http://palatepress.com>

2009 Monika Caha Selections
Zweigelt "Andau" Burgenland

WHO: Weinberghof Fritsch
WHAT: Zweigelt
DESIGNATION: Red Soil
WHERE: Austria, Wagram
WHEN: 2009

Here was a red from the Wagram region of Lower Austria, the coolest zone in this lineup. The result was concomitantly lower in alcohol and had the telltale pale garnet color of a cool-climate wine. Hints of mint and herbs wafted over lovely aromas of plummy black fruits with a base note of earth. On the palate it was spicy with great piquancy, black pepper, and more plummy fruits. The finish was long and supple, and this wine retained its character after a day in the bottle. Enormously elegant and food loving. To my mind, a close second for best of tasting. Recommended. Meg Houston Maker

<http://palatepress.com>