

Palate Press

2006 J Pinot Noir

WHO: Seven of Hearts

WHAT: Chardonnay

WHEN: 2010

WHERE: Willamette Valley, Oregon

With a strawberry nose morphing into blueberry brickle, the wine has a mild opening, with bigger fruit appearing on the palate. It's silky on the tongue, with integrated tannins that are deceptively mild yet help the wine stand up to food. At this age, the wine opens pleausurably over time, so pour it out 15 minutes before you're ready to drink it (or decant or aerate). Then sip it slowly for another 15 minutes. Good with a variety of medium to light dishes, meat or vegetarian. Highly recommended (91). BSE
